

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The Inquisitors Investigated Twenty-Three Cases and Found Fourteen Indictments.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, December 9th, 1901. To the Hon. Fletcher M. Doan, Judge of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, sitting in the County of Gila, Territory of Arizona.

Your Grand Jury, empaneled for the December, 1901, term of court, beg leave to report as follows:

We have, in addition to several minor matters, investigated twenty-three cases, as follows: Assault with a deadly weapon, three (3); larceny, eleven (11); burglary, three (3); jail breaking, two (2); assault to murder, two (2); manslaughter, one (1); murder, one (1). We have returned the following indictments: Grand larceny, seven (7); burglary, three (3); jail breaking, two (2); assault to murder, two (2).

We have dismissed the following: Larceny, four (4); assault with a deadly weapon, three (3); manslaughter, one (1); murder, one (1).

Committees were appointed to examine the county buildings and offices of the county officials and the sanitary condition of the town, and their reports are herewith attached.

At the suggestion of the committee appointed to examine the county buildings, the Grand Jury visited the county jail in a body and made a careful inspection of the same. We are unanimously of the opinion that the jail is a disgrace to any civilized community, and would be to any uncivilized one. We find that there is practically no ventilation, and the cells are so dark that artificial light is constantly required during the day. The sanitary condition would be a disgrace in the slums of New York City. It is a constant menace to the health of the town and particularly to the county officials occupying offices in the building. In its crowded condition, housing as it does in the same room the convicts and those accused of trivial offenses, it is a breeding of crime. Those who are accused of some misdemeanor, and who in many cases are acquitted of the charges of which they stand accused, are compelled to remain in contact with the atmosphere of corruption and disease, both moral and physical, for weeks and even months.

It is contended that there are no funds available for the erection of a new or separate building. We would suggest that if the property valuation of many of the individuals and corporations doing business in Gila county was assessed at something approaching its true value, the revenue of the county would be materially increased, the rate of taxation decreased and a much truer statement of the existing condition of the county published to the world, as well as providing funds for the erection and maintenance of public buildings that would be a credit rather than a disgrace to what promises to be one of the richest and most prosperous counties of the Territory of Arizona. The recommendations made in the report of the committee we would endorse.

We would recommend that all peace officers be instructed to make a critical examination of all weapons and articles found in possession of persons arrested, and keep a record of the same in a book provided for the purpose, so that their testimony may be clear and exact, and it should be required.

We wish to call attention to sections 275, 276 and 277, Penal Code, Territorial Laws, relative to occupancy by respectable characters of buildings within specified distances of the school and county buildings, and would recommend that the peace officers be instructed to enforce the provisions of the statute without fear or favor.

The Grand Jury wishes to express its appreciation of the courtesies shown it by the honorable Judge of the Court, District Attorney and Sheriff in expediting the work of the Grand Jury.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEO. S. ANDRUS, Foreman.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to examine the offices of the district attorney and sheriff, beg leave to report as follows:

We find that the district attorney's office, as far as we could see, is kept in a neat and satisfactory manner. As for the sheriff's office, we find that in the last year there has been a vast improvement in the manner of keeping the records and books of said office. We also find the interior of the office rather messy, and suggest to the supervisors that they take steps to keep the same in that manner.

T. A. FULTON, TOM ARMER, JAS. S. TOWLE, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, the undersigned, appointed as a committee to investigate the office of justice of the peace and constable, in our investigation, beg leave to submit the following report: We find the books to be in first-class condition, the office to be in order, and everything in their proper places.

J. W. BANDHAUER, R. H. DANIELL, W. H. WOODSON, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to examine the office of the board of supervisors, report that we have visited the same and find that the meetings have been held regularly according to law, and that the records of the same are kept up to date.

F. B. GABBERT, J. K. CHILTON, E. E. HORRELL, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to examine the office of the board of supervisors, report that we have visited the same and find that the meetings have been held regularly according to law, and that the records of the same are kept up to date.

F. B. GABBERT, J. K. CHILTON, E. E. HORRELL, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to examine the office of county treasurer, report that we have visited said office, and to the best of our knowledge, find everything kept in a neat and businesslike manner.

Respect submitted, F. B. GABBERT, JAS. S. TOWLE, GEORGE E. SHUTE, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to examine the county buildings and county sanitation, submit the following report:

We find the county jail too small to accommodate the number of prisoners that have been confined there within the last few months, and it is impossible to keep the jail in proper sanitary condition under the circumstances. We would also recommend putting a ceiling over the cell chambers to render the sound between the jail and the district attorney's office; also an iron lattice between the top of the cage and ceiling, and between the cage and wall, to keep the prisoners from getting behind the cage. We would also recommend the building of a more commodious and substantial jail as soon as the finances of the county will admit of same.

We have examined the county hospital and find the same kept in a very neat, clean and orderly manner, and also the grounds of same, and we congratulate the supervisors of Gila county upon the selection of the nation in charge. We have also examined the sanitary condition of the town of Globe, and find in the absence of a general sewerage system the streets and alleys are in a fairly good condition.

T. A. FULTON, W. H. WOODSON, TOM ARMER, Committee.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, Dec. 7, 1901.

To Geo. S. Andrus, Foreman of the Grand Jury.

We, your committee appointed to investigate the condition of the county records office, beg leave to submit the following: That we have examined the same and found everything apparently in good condition. The office was neat and clean, and books seemed to be well kept, and further recommended the system by which the present incumbent keeps his records.

J. K. CHILTON, E. A. BAUMGARDNER, J. R. BARNETTE, Committee.

A Modern Eden.

"The way the ozone and sunshine of Arizona rejuvenates a man is something marvelous," said Mr. Lee Crandall, of Globe, A. T., at the Metropolitan last night. "I ran against General Wheeler for congress down in Alabama in '94. Was counted out, of course, and was so disgusted that I migrated to the great Southwest. It was the happiest act of my life. If a man wants the wrinkles and crow's feet to leave his face; if he wants to feel buoyant and good, and at peace with all mankind every day of his life, let him leave the overpopulated and effete east, and seek health and good spirits in a land that is winterless, and where something is growing on vine or tree in every month in the year. People don't generally know what an Eden Arizona is, or the influx of population would in the next few years make it as thickly settled as Holland."—Washington Times.
